

The people have spoken: they want more $KUPP. We have compiled feedback from over 1,000 surveyed users and have made some changes to our roadmap. To improve the user experience, dGame is merging directly to KUPP.app for more earning opportunities.

Our user analytics also show that people are spending a good amount of time on KUPP.app, but there needs to be more content for broader earning possibilities. With this dGame merger, gamification opportunities will be readily available. Users can earn by joining dGame competitions, complete tasks, or do a combination of the two.

FoodBuk integration is also near completion. With this launch, any user worldwide can become a FoodBuk editor and get paid.

Earning $KUPP is going to be easier and more enjoyable than ever. Download the apps, complete tasks, play games, watch videos, and get paid.
